Worth repeating?

Depression says nothing will help, so there is no point starting. This page is where you check. Often the after number is a little higher than the before number — not fixed, just a little higher. A page of small differences is worth more than any promise.

What it was actually like

That is a symptom, not a verdict on your life. The point of this page is not to enjoy things on demand. It is to keep doing a few of them while the enjoyment is offline, because that is usually how it comes back — slowly, and after the doing, not before.

If you are thinking about ending your life, or you are not safe right now, this page is not enough. Call your local emergency number, or the crisis line you have written below, or go to your nearest emergency department. Tell someone. People are trained for exactly this and they are not shocked by it.

Worth checking

If most weeks have looked like this for a while, that is worth telling a doctor. Take these pages with you. Describing it is hard; showing it is easier.
