

Start here.

Every cleaning schedule you have downloaded was written for a house nobody lives in. Two things make one survive a real week: minutes against every job, so you find out that your quick Saturday is a four-hour plan before you agree to it — and a name against every job, including the invisible half nobody counts.

1 WHAT IS IN YOUR DOWNLOAD

4 fillable kits	Letter + A4 · colour + ink-saving mono · 9 pages each
4 print kits	the same pages without form fields
Pages 6 and 7 go in the cupboard	what not to mix, and what to do about a spill
This guide	printing and filling in, on one page

2 TYPE ON IT

Open a file ending in -fillable.pdf in Adobe Acrobat Reader (free) or a tablet app and type. Pages 1, 3, 4 and 6 are filled in once and saved — they are the house, the circuit, who does what, and the cupboard. Pages 2, 8 and 9 are the ones you keep using.

3 OR PRINT AND WRITE

The -print.pdf files are the same nine pages without fields. Three of them are meant to leave the folder: page 3 where everybody can see it, page 6 inside the cupboard door where the bottles are, and page 7 beside it. Page 2 can be reprinted weekly or just ticked in pencil and rubbed out.

4 PRINT IT WELL

- Paper: plain A4 or US Letter, 90–120 gsm
- Scale: 100% / Actual size — never “Fit to page”
- Page 3 is landscape-wide on purpose: print it, do not crop it
- Saving ink? The mono kit is the same layout in graphite only

5 TWO THINGS BEFORE YOU START, AND ONE WARNING

First, time the jobs. Not estimate — time them, once, with a phone, and write the number in. Page 9 exists because everybody is wrong in the same direction. Second, fill in page 4 with somebody else in the room, because the invisible work is the half that causes the arguments. And the warning: page 6 is not decoration. Bleach with an ammonia-based glass cleaner, or with vinegar or a limescale remover, produces gas that sends people to hospital every year. That page goes inside the cupboard door before the kit goes in a drawer.
